B. C. Strawberries will be in around June the 15th. The opening price, owing to the Growers Co-Operative Plan, for this year will probably be the ruling price for the season. Very little decline is expected. However, the first berries are the best, and we are getting our berries from the Okanagan grower. Place your order now, and let us save a nice large and firm berry for you.

WATCH FOR THIS CROOK

Another clever crook is working in Ontario and merchants are asked to be on their guard against his operations. In Nanaimo this man recently entered several stores, claiming to be a representative of the National Cash Register Company, sent to inspect the registers. After making the examination of the register he reported everything satisfactory and left, but when the cash was made up at night a shortage, running from ten to twenty dollars, was found by some merchants.

Mr. H. P. Ryan of High River spent the week-end at Vulcan.

THE INSTITUTE

Report and Paper Features of Regular Meeting

The regular meeting of Vulcan branch of the Women's Institute was held on June 8th, at the home of Mrs. F. L. Simington, and as a social event was pleasing and successful, the hostesses being Mrs. Leverington and Mrs. Simington. There was also a session of business, interesting and important, one of the principal subjects discussed being of general public interest, namely, the matter of securing permission for the sale of refreshments at the park on Dominion Day, the object being to add to the fund already of considerable size which the W. I. has accumulated and which the organization proposes to donate for the purchase of equipment for the proposed new play park for the children. This project of the ladies will surely get generous support.

There were two special features of the meeting. One of these was the report of the provincial convention held at Edmonton presented by Mrs. Schenck, who is president of the local branch and the representation at the convention. The report was comprehensive, covering every detail of the convention, and in a understanding way conveyed a splendid review of the proceedings of the session as well as a description of the general and special activities of the organization. It was just the kind of a report that could come only from a faithful delegate, and Mrs. Schenck merits and has the commendation of the local members.

A feature also of the meeting was a paper on the subject, "The Women's Institute and Its Work," prepared and presented by Mrs. Hanson, the efficient and devoted secretary of the branch. In a concise way the history of the organization was given from the founding of the same in 1897 to the present date, and the story of this now great institution was given in an interesting way; the aims and objects of the institute were splendidly defined, and the methods and accomplishments had their mention. Suggestions were aptly made, and a paper of the kind cannot but be of real value to the women who aspire to the attainments set by this organization, which are indeed worthy of all women.

CELEBRATION

Dominion Day Celebration on July 2nd

Vulcan without its Dominion Day Celebration would not be Vulcan. It has celebrated when times were bad and now that the tide has apparently turned there is more reason than ever why it should celebrate.

A splendid programme of events has been provided including two league baseball games in which the four teams forming the Alberta Southern League will take part, as well as races for everybody. Refreshments will be served at reasonable prices by the Women's Auxiliary of St. Aldhelm's, the ladies of the Roman Catholic church and the Women's Institute. This is a chance for all to meet their friends; in some cases the only chance during the year. Many have got so used to coming to Vulcan for the celebration that they would come without a programme at all but the committee have seen to it that in every detail the high standard established will be maintained.

Come and judge for yourself.

LOCAL ARTISTS

Vaudeville Performance a Splendid Success

The Opera House, Vulcan, was crowded to overflowing, on Tuesday evening of last week, when a vaudeville performance was put on under the auspices of the Vulcan Dramatic Society. With a charge for admission of fifty cents for adults and twenty-five cents for children, the sum of $156.00 was taken in. The proceeds, after expenses are paid, are to go to the Cadet Corps.

The programme consisted of eleven items and two overtures by Ober's Orchestra. The selections rendered were up to the usual high standard of this organization and deservedly met with the approval of the audience.

The musical novelty presented by Messrs. Ober and Anderson and Mr. Geddes put the audience on good terms with themselves and in a right mood to appreciate the monologue by Mr. Tom Exley, who ably portrayed the capers of a frequenter of the "gods," of an east-end theatre in London during an interval in the performance.

The burlesque by Messrs. Wellington and Simington showed that it was to the liking of the audience as it brought out tons of applause and the demand for an encore which was duly given in the form of a verse of a topical nature, while Mr. A. J. Ober's saxophone solo was well received and vociferously encored.

The performance of Drill Squad No. 1, Vulcan Cadets, I. S. Macdonald, H. Buck, T. Mutz, F. Vanskiver and Brothers Marcellus, reflected great credit on themselves and their instructor, Mr. R. Greacen.

The difficult dramatic item presented by Mr. W. H. Scott and Mrs. Denbigh was well performed, but was perhaps of too serious a nature for a programme of this kind.

The number most favourably received was the Fairyland scene by the Misses Lelaw, Farrand, Vaughan, Simington and Craig. This pleased the audience so much that it had to be repeated. The scenery used in this item was painted by members of the Dramatic Society and marks them out to be artists of the brush as well as of vaudeville.

Messrs. Denbigh and Ober made a great hit with their burlesques, the kiddies being highly delighted with their comic get-up. The violin solo of Mr. J. H. Anderson was greatly appreciated by the audience and an encore was called for and given.

Mr. Tom Exley's second number, consisting of a number of clever conjuring tricks, was one of the best on the programme and added to this gentleman's reputation as an entertainer.

The programme was brought to a close by the Awkward Squad, consisting of Messrs. Scott, Simington, Macdonald, Wellington, Denbigh, Discher and Greacen, whose awkwardness was loudly applauded by all. Without making any invidious distinctions, perhaps the character most enjoyed was Mr. Greacen's Bertie and those of his fatman (Macdonald).

The programme might have been played a little closer, the atmospheric conditions before the end of the performance being quite trying to many of the audience.

The Dramatic Society must be complimented on the performance. They now know what will get a crowd together.

BASEBALL

Vulcan Team Plays Errorless Game

The Vulcan baseball team put up a great game at Stavelo on Wednesday against the strong team of that town. Stavelo had the right end of the score 1-0 but Vulcan were unfortunate to have a win registered against them as they played an errorless game, while the home team although playing good ball made two errors. Haynes had a slight advantage over his old rival Siler. Both pitchers were in fine form. Siler striking out 8 and allowing four hits, while Haynes struck out 10 and allowed two hits. Haynes won his own game in the fourth innings, with a nice single to centre, after Malchow and Jenkins had singled.

Notwithstanding two errors the Stavelo boys made plays on drives which would have gone for hits with any other team in the league in the field. Shorty Bouzay and Happy Ren made great catches in the field after hard runs, while Chuck Clark at short was worth going miles to see, his one-hand pick-up and throw of Marcellus grass cutter in the seventh being of big league class.

Vulcan made a desperate attempt to tie in their half of the ninth innings and were very near succeeding. With two out and Recor on second, Siler singled to left. Recor tried to score on the hit, but Happy Ren's perfect throw home had him beaten by two yards. The Vulcan players are to be heartily congratulated on their splendid exhibition of ball.

CHAUTAUQUA

Large Crowd Attends Opening Performance

Chautauqua got away to a splendid start in Vulcan on Saturday last. Miss Mitchell, superintendent of Junior Chautauqua, had then been in town for about a week, and had endeared herself to all with whom she came in contact by her pleasing personality. Her good work among the kiddies culminated on Saturday afternoon in the best parade ever organized in Vulcan in connection with Chautauqua work.

The parade was headed by an automobile decorated with the Union Jack, driven by Mr. J. Wolfe, carrying the Calgary Kiddies, who were to have the honor of opening the Chautauqua programme. Following were a detachment of cadets fully equipped with rifle, etc., under Cadet Macdonald, over a hundred children dressed in picturesque costumes and leading or carrying their pets. After parading the main street the parade was formed up in the centre of the centre of the town in order that the judges, Messdames King, Whicher and Stewart might carry out their difficult task of awarding the following prizes: Best instrument, musical instrument, Billy Charters; biggest pet, cow, Leo Loisele; littlest pet, two goslings, Rosie Korczynski; cleverest pet, dog, Orton Dadds; queerest pet, rooster, Jack Anderson; comic costume, lady, Theon Vaughan; novel costume, soldier, Charlie Carson; best costume, sunflowers, Irene Wallace and Mabel Hanson; best costume, Miss Canada. Eleanor Jones; best original costume, Chautauqua Tent, Norma Vanskiver; best rider (boy), Eugene Hanson; best rider (girl), Hazel Carruthers; best comic rider, Bernard Pratt.

Each of the above winners was given a season ticket to Chautauqua which was represented by a ribbon pinned on the arm by one or other of the Calgary Kiddies. After that the parade was continued to the tent, disbanding with the satisfaction that the Juniors had done everything possible towards putting Chautauqua week on the highroad to success.

On Saturday evening the tent was almost filled for the opening performance by the Calgary Kiddies. Compliments are due to the following gentlemen for their splendid work in getting such a large number out for the first evening: M. G. McPherson, O. L. McPherson, Ole Hanson, C. M. McDonald, R. M. Davis, E. J. Charters, Mac Bows, E. J. Robson, H. Daines, J. A. Gardner, H. Dorsch, S. W. Colwell, W. F. Seaman, J. M. Hill, W. J. Robson, M. L. Getty, O. B. Roe, F. Shaw, J. W. Johnston, H. C. Heath and W. E. Walker. It will be noticed that these gentlemen are almost entirely from the country, and with all due respect to our two worthy townsmen in the list credit should be given where credit is due.

Mayor Butchart, in a few well chosen remarks, introduced Mr. Wilfred Wees, the Superintendent, to the audience. Mr. Wees, on taking the platform, apologized to the audience, particularly the unmarried men, for having taken the place of the charming young ladies who have been acting as Chautauqua superintendents at Vulcan during the last few years. He then complimented the Vulcan people on the pleasing appearance of their streets and the prosperous look of the neighborhood generally, and after making the usual announcements, called upon the Calgary Kiddies for the opening performance.

These clever little performers and their teacher, Miss McDonald, visited Vulcan a little while ago, but their Chautauqua programme presented many new features. Although lacking the services of one of their number through illness they kept the audience in a very happy mood for upwards of two hours. The singing, dancing, dramatic and comic recitations of these seven children, ranging in age from seven to thirteen years, reflect great credit upon Miss McDonald and the programme she presents is well up to the standard which is being given, on Chautauqua circuits.

LOCAL ITEMS

Mr. J. M. Scobbie spent the week-end with his family at Vulcan.

Mr. H. E. Elves of Lomond was a business visitor to Vulcan on Monday.

Miss Emma McArthur has just returned home to Vulcan after a three months' visit to the coast.

Mr. and Mrs. Overett Depoe and little son, who have been in Coeur d'Alene, Idaho, since last fall, returned to Vulcan on Monday morning.

Look out for a bumper crop of grain this year and also a big discovery of oil. Both are coming as sure as taxes.

Messrs. F. A. Elves and F. L. Simington and other brethren are representing Vulcan at the annual meeting of the Grand Lodge of Alberta Freemasons at Calgary on Wednesday and Thursday, June 13th and 14th.

Refreshments will be served on the grounds at the Dominion Day Celebration by the ladies of St. Aldhelm's and Roman Catholic churches, and possibly also by the Ladies' Aid of the Union church.

Dr. Frederick Poole, who told the Chautauqua audience how Great Britain recovered the Holy Land from the Turks, had supper in the basement of the I.O.O.F. Hall at six o'clock on Wednesday evening with the members of Vulcan Lodge A.F. & A.M. and later addressed the gathering.

Mrs. C. C. Packwood and family arrived in Vulcan on Monday evening from Calgary and will take up their residence next door to the Daines Boot Shop. Mrs. Packwood is opening a millinery business in the course of a few days. Until quite recently Mrs. Packwood was in business in Veteran, Alberta.

An interesting basketball game was played at Vulcan on Friday evening last between the Carmangay schoolboys and the Vulcan schoolboys. The game resulted in an easy win for the visitors, who outpointed the local boys throughout the game. The referees were Mr. A. C. Vaughan and the principal of the Carmangay school. It is only fair to state that this was the first game played by the Vulcan boys, they having only started playing very recently.

The regular monthly meeting of the Vulcan Women's Institute was held at the home of Mrs. F. L. Simington on Friday last. Mrs. W. A. Schenck gave a report of her visit to the provincial convention recently and Mrs. M. Hanson a very interesting paper on "The Institute and Its Work." The question whether the institute should have a booth on the grounds at the Dominion Day Celebration was discussed, and on a vote being taken it was decided in the affirmative, subject to the approval of the town council.

Mr. and Mrs. H. P. Ryan are leaving Vulcan this week to take up their residence in High River. Mr. Ryan has been located at that point for some time, but has been unable to get a suitable residence until now. Mr. and Mrs. Ryan will be greatly missed by their many friends in Vulcan as both have been very active in furthering various community enterprises to the full extent of their abilities. Had we been blessed last year with rains such as we have had this year it is more than likely that we should not have lost these desirable citizens, but it is simply a case of our loss being High River's gain. The best wishes of Vulcan and district go with "Pat" and Mrs. Ryan to their new home and they will always be sure of a hearty welcome when they come to visit.

GOING EAST

The Advocate Man Goes to Halifax to Convention

The Advocate man is off this week on the long trip to Halifax to attend the convention of newspaper men, and a pleasant journey and a great time is anticipated.

This pleasure was made possible by the courtesies of the C. P. R. and the C.N.R., and the generous spirit of several local business men who are patrons of this paper, who, when the trip seemed difficult to the editor, formed a delegation and expressed the desire that Vulcan should be represented at such an important event and volunteered to accept the interruption of publication as an evidence of appreciation of the efforts of the editor in support of the business and other enterprises of Vulcan. This is very highly esteemed as a real compliment, and even greater than the splendid holiday we value the recognition of efforts devoted to the community, and in the future they will not be less. If The Advocate misses a week or two, the hope is that our subscribers and other patrons will accept the situation in the manner that has been demonstrated by those who have been mentioned, and all will have our best thanks.

Mr. Walter Mays is making an addition to the house formerly occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Ryan. Mr. and Mrs. A. J. E. Gibson will occupy this residence when they arrive in Vulcan in the near future.

Mr. R. L. Armer of the local Canadian Bank of Commerce staff, spent the holiday week-end with his parents at Macleod, and was unable to return until Wednesday morning, owing to interruptions to the train service through the recent floods.

Four music pupils of Mrs. Scobbie are taking the second examination of the Toronto Conservatory of Music on Thursday, June 21st, when a special examiner is visiting Vulcan. The pupils are Mayme LeBow, Barbara Howes, Russell Robbie and Glen Robbie.

The church service in the Chautauqua tent on Sunday evening was well attended, a large number of people coming in from the country. The Rev. J. N. Brunton delivered an impressive address and special musical numbers were rendered by a combination of the choirs of the Union and Anglican churches under the leadership of Mr. W. E. Butchart.

Clark Prendergast, who was pitching for the Barons baseball team last season, and who is well known to baseball fans throughout Southern Alberta, has gone to Toronto where he is having a try-out with the Toronto International League Club. Negotiations were on foot to bring this player to Vulcan for the current season, but these fell through of course on his being offered this chance.

The new football ground has been improved by levelling it and filling in the gopher holes. Two or three practice games have been held and good form shown by many of the players. Some of the youngsters are showing up finely, while the older ones mean well, but cannot always stand the pace. A team from Champion is expected along shortly to play a real game with the local men.

The Town Council met again on Monday evening at the office of the Secretary-Treasurer as arranged at the regular monthly meeting. Mayor Butchart presided and all councillors were present except F. A. Elves. W. A. Howes, secretary of the Celebration committee, was also present. The programme of events was thoroughly discussed and finally settled. A request for a harness race was turned down as it was felt there were not sufficient trotters in the district. Other details in connection with the celebration were discussed and with good weather prevailing it promises to be the best ever.

The tennis courts laid out on the exhibition grounds are now in use, the recent heavy rains and much rolling by Mr. J. Wolfe and assistants having got them in first class condition. Players of this popular game are now better provided for than ever before in Vulcan.

Mr. and Mrs. Tommy Logan, and little Master Logan, have just now become residents of High River, and they go to their new home with the best wishes of many friends in Vulcan. They have been away from here for a week or two, but their goods have just been transferred, and until the last we refrained from reporting they had gone. Tommy has been for some time on the office of the High River Times, where he was an apprentice when he enlisted for service overseas. He was popular locally as well as over there, and The Advocate gladly gives testimony as to his ability, and service while on this staff. The break in his social and other relations is the cause of regret. Mr. Logan has also been popular in Vulcan, her pleasing personality and the generous contribution of her talent as a singer to the support of community enterprises and organizations, winning for her a place in the esteem of our people. May they do well and have no worry.

KEEP FARMS AND ROADS CLEAN

Let everyone get busy and clean up their farms and roads. It does not cost as much to be neat and orderly as it does to be slovenly and is much better to be neat and is more agreeable and pleasant. In passing a farm it is easy enough to tell whether its owner is a neat farmer or not. If the door way is strewn with old boxes, barrels, farm machinery, broken and otherwise, the gate broken, tin cans and other rubbish thrown in the road. Many farmers think they cannot find time to keep things neat and tidy, that the general farm work is all they can manage. This might be so if these habits of slovenliness did not hinder and make three times more work than it would take to keep them straight. Let him start in some day and he will be surprised to see how many of these odd jobs can be done in a few hours and what a difference can be made in the general appearance of things and many little things can be fixed in ten minutes which if neglected may cost dollars to repair.

A better way is to set apart half a day in every week—say Saturday afternoon—for this work and in a few weeks it will be found to be the most profitable half day's work in the week. A minute of many little things can be kept during the week and on Saturday afternoon the list cleared up. Make it a rule to never put anything on the road. We are sorry and almost ashamed to say that many farmers make the road a general receptacle of rubbish of every kind. Instead of having clean and green roads they are nearly blocked. You would be surprised to travel a circuit of a few miles to see the vast amount and variety of these obstructions. Every one seems to think the little he puts in the road will not be noticed, but all thinking so fills the road. Let every farmer (and any other man) keep his rubbish of the road and keep the weeds mowed down and the country will look better.

FOUND NOT GUILTY

Trider has been found not guilty of murdering Constable Paris at Drumheller. On agreement to pay a fine imposed for an infraction of the liquor law he was released from custody, and is now free. Unless the press dispatches have failed to represent the affair correctly, that is a peculiar outcome, and one not likely to make for observance of law. The story told to the public in the dispatches was that this man refused to stop his car when ordered to do so by two police officers; that because he did not obey the car ran into fence, accidentally or by will of the driver; and one of the officers was killed. It would be supposed that at least something would be done to a party who acted in that manner on the charge of resisting arrest or refusing to obey an officer of the law. If the tradition is established that bootleggers and motor drivers do not have to obey the police, and are not responsible for what happens in consequence, it is useless to hope for law enforcement or for safety on public streets and roads. That Trider intended to kill anybody is not likely; more probably he only wanted to get away. But a man who is ordered by the policeman to stop has no business to try to get away, and if he does should be prosecuted and punished to the limit.—Edmonton Bulletin.

To assist in the movement of settlers to western Canada, a reduction of approximately one-third in the rates on settlers' effects by both the Canadian Pacific and the Canadian National railways was announced last Friday. This rate applies from St. Paul, Minn. and Duluth to all points on the prairies.

EDITORIAL PARAGRAPHS

Toronto Globe: In 1913 Ole Nelson, a Norwegian by birth, bought a 480-acre farm in south-eastern Saskatchewan for $150 cash and his promise to pay for the balance. Today the whole property is conservatively valued at $12,000, which is double the balance against it. As the Globe correspondent writes: "Increasing one's balance by $6,000 in ten years may seem a small thing to some, but it means a whole lot to one who started with $150 and had no other means of adding to his capital than that supplied by the work of his hands." In the other case a mechanic four years ago bought a 280-acre location in Headingley district, 18 miles from Winnipeg, at $32 an acre, much of the greater part of the capital required being borrowed from relatives. Today this Headingley farmer-mechanic stands debt free on a holding which cost nearly nine thousand dollars, and is now, aside from the complete equipment added, worth a good deal more than that.

Lethbridge Herald: T. J. Garland, Progressive member for Bow Valley, has declared at Ottawa that he is no pessimist. Who would have thought it after some of his recent utterances. There is, he said, a growing thought of secession in the West. It must be a growth of the fertile imagination of Mr. Garland.

Vancouver Sun: Methodist church of Canada does well to go on record as believing that way is directly antagonistic to the spirit of Christianity. The Christian church of the world could end war in five years. And the way they could end it is by preaching plain Jesus of Nazareth to the people seven days of the week without getting tangled up in theological arguments, technical side issues and fights about church organization about which most people know nothing and care less. The only thing wrong with the modern church is that it spends too much time trying to smuggle us into heaven and too little time in showing us how to make our stay on earth as profitable as possible. We are not placed on earth for punishment and with the idea of getting on to some more comfortable place as soon as possible. We are placed here to learn something. If we don't learn how to live on earth, we will be as unhappy in heaven as the small schoolboy who is promoted to a higher grade too prematurely. Churches should be our spiritual school-houses. It is the only way they can teach us that war is foolish.

Montreal Witness: It is pitiful revelation that members of parliament should still be found openly to advocate a return to the patronage system as the total of government, an ideal which implies a body-politic infested by parasites, indeed, cultivated by parasites for their own benefit.

Exchange: There are two ways of looking at the purchase of oil stocks. The gambler buys them just as he would bet money on a poker hand. The investor, perhaps from altruism, but perhaps also from a longer view of his own interest, considers the value of developing natural resources. Under the plains of Western Canada there are oil deposits of incalculable value. They are scarcely tapped yet, but several companies are in the field and seek funds to carry on drilling operations. In time the West is going to be an important factor in supplying the world demand for oil. Why send money to Shelby, Montana, U.S.A., when it can be used to encourage Canadian development with an equal chance for personal profit?

Acton Free Press: There are a lot of young people, and their parents, too, who in considering the choice of a vocation consider rather disdainfully the work of a mechanic as a means of livelihood. And this in the face of a manifest aptitude for overtaking the needful training which would result in skilful workmen or workwomen. It would be a pretty poor world without farmers and carpenters and bricklayers, and plumbers and motormen, and on the other hand, it would be a pretty poor world without doctors, and ministers, and poets, and musicians. Everyone's gift is necessary for the good of the community as a whole. Respect your own gift. If a boy would make a first-rate carpenter, and a second rate lawyer, his chances for success and happiness depend on his taking up carpentry. But if he goes pitying himself because his endowment is not different, of course he will spoil everything. So that young folks' work is necessary to society, so that they are giving real service, they may hold their heads as high as a prime minister. But there are miners who have done more for the world than many a king.

Seattle Produce News: Experimental work carried out in Malheur county by the Oregon state livestock sanitary board have shown that potatoes can be fed to sheep with good results. It advises that sheepmen should make a practice of feeding and growing more root feeds such as potatoes, beets, carrots and turnips. "In fact," it states, "root feeds are superior to silage, and offer the advantage of growing in the districts that are too cold to grow silage crops."

The failure of many of our stockmen today is because they have turned their product off in an unfinished condition is the opinion of R. C. Harvey, the Lethbridge sheep breeder, who finishes his lambs by feeding them during the fall and winter at Fort William.

J. E. VARLEY ELECTS TRIAL

J. E. Varley, accused of the theft of $100 of Fred Wilton, a client, was committed for trial by Magistrate Sanders in the police court on Saturday morning. Mr. Varley elected for trial by a judge and jury. Mr. Varley protested against the jurisdiction of the court to try the case. He maintained that this matter had been dealt with by the committee of the Benchers' Society. In view of the fact that this committee was a legally constituted court, with powers to punish, he said that the case could not be heard in the police court.

There is a strong need for the propagation of ideals of citizenship among certain of our population. Every citizen, young and old, should learn not only to take a distinct pride in the beauty of the town, but to protect it and to regard it as being there for his and her benefit along with all others in the town. To mutilate young trees and damage boulevards are acts of mean and thoughtless conduct and should be stopped.

Government road inspectors throughout the province are having a tense session of it, particularly in the Pass country, where the floods were very bad. In the High River district many culverts and bridges have been damaged, particularly at the approaches which will necessitate a big expense to the districts concerned.

In looking over the names of the 158 citizens named on the Moderation League committee we are inclined to remark that these very men are substantial and conscientious and the motives that actuate them in connection with the Liquor act is of the highest. Meanwhile no doubt they will make announcements with regards to the coming vote that should be considered seriously by all our citizens.

Every indication at present points to Alberta experiencing the largest influx of automobile tourists in the history of the province. Meanwhile there are thousands of automobiles on the roads leading to Banff from the United States who will make the trip from Banff to Windermere, when the road is finally opened this month.

Here and There

Canada's export trade grew $174,000,000 in the first eleven months of the fiscal year ending March 31st.

A recent and popular Canadian Pacific appointment is that of Mr. Walter Maughan to Steamship Passenger Manager. The appointment includes management of the company's passenger business on both the Atlantic and Pacific oceans.

Fire insurance companies found 1922 the most disastrous year for more than 20. The ratio of losses to premiums was 68.64 per cent. British companies suffered most severely, their losses to premiums being 71.48 per cent, mainly due to the Northern Ontario fire.

A gold rush is in full swing and it is expected to bring about the development of mining camps in the counties of Temiskaming and Abitibi. Gold was discovered in these two counties early in 1922, and a rush of prospectors began in March of that year. In October, 250 claims were staked, comprising 50,000 acres of land, and to date about 90,000 acres have been staked.

In the last fiscal year, Canada imported 1,363,000 pounds of butter from the United States, 297,000 pounds from Australia and 2,254,000 pounds from New Zealand. The total exports of Canadian butter were 8,430,000 pounds.

It is announced that the running schedule of the Trans-Canada Limited, which will operate between Montreal, Toronto and Vancouver, commencing May 20th, has been cut down one hour. Considering the all steel equipment and luxurious appointments and its regular daily on time performance, this is the finest long distance train in the world.

Bungalow camps, such as are operated in the Canadian Rockies, are to be built in the Peace River, Nipigon Bay and Lake of the Woods districts of Ontario by the Canadian Pacific Railway. Low cost of construction and maintenance will enable the company to offer lower rates than standard hotels. The first three will be ready for occupation by July 1st.

According to a recent rearrangement of ports of call: the Orient, the Canadian Pacific Steamships Limited, by omitting Manila as a port of call between Shanghai and Hong Kong, will bring the latter port four days nearer to Canada, the United States and Europe. This makes possible a through service from London, England, via Canadian Pacific Atlantic Express to Quebec, and thence to Vancouver and via Canadian Pacific Express to Hong Kong under 28 days.

During the year 1922 the Canadian Pacific Railway handled a total of 8,435,825 pieces of baggage as compared with 8,732,874 for the previous year. Of this amount 5,175,203 pieces were passengers' baggage which compared with 5,486,455 for the previous twelve months. 9,697 bicycles were handled, 19,336 dogs travelled as baggage and 2,968 baby carriages were moved. There was also a considerable increase in the movement of milk. In 1922, the company moved 1,623,707 cans as against 1,614,791 in 1921; and it is remarkable that most of this increase was in the three provinces, Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta, which show an apparent indication of the further development of mixed farming in those provinces.

One of the best examples of a town "growing up over night" is that of Climax, the end of steel on the Connaught branch of the Canadian Pacific Railway. All that there was on the quarter section on February 19th, the day on which the site of the new town was finally settled, was a homesteader's shack and a small barn. When the steel was laid in Climax on March 15th there was a restaurant, one rooming house, over a score of dwellings, two blacksmith's shops, a drug store, general's furnishing store, a big general store, pool room and barber shop. The new town is situated in four large flat warehouses in which nearly 100,000 bushels of grain were stored, and a butcher shop. The new town is situated in Lone Tree R.M. number 18, about 30 miles south of Shaunavon.

The noted English suffragist, Mrs. Emmeline Pankhurst, will give an address in Calgary on June 18.

AERIAL PATROL

Landing Spots for Aeroplanes Are Being Opened Along the Scenic Motor Highway

It is the intention of the forestry department to establish an aerial patrol along Canada's great scenic motor highway, to be opened June 30. This precaution is being taken as there is constant danger of fires from motorists throwing aside cigar and cigarette stubs. It is hoped this will help in the preservation of the forest through which the road runs. At present men are at work on sites at Hillsdale, Whiteman's Pass and a site near Castle Mountain, preparing landing spots for aeroplanes. If motorists will only guard against carelessness along this beautiful highway, as they would guard against it in their own homes, there will be no cause of alarm or fear of losing what is the heritage of every Canadian.

William Irvine, Labor, East Calgary, was ruled out of order in the house recently when he started to read a telegram from the editor of the Calgary Albertan regarding the Hebridean settlers in Alberta, on a question of privilege, which precludes the reading of a document from outside the house.

COOTE AMENDMENTS

Banks Are Prohibited From Charging for Keeping Customers' Accounts

Two amendments to the interest and discount section of the Bank Act, proposed by the western Progressive group, were adopted by the commons' banking and commerce committee. The first prohibits a bank from making any charge for keeping a customer's account without an agreement with the customer; and the second requires the rate of interest and discount charged by the bank to be stated on the face of the note.

The second amendment was carried over the objection of the secretary of the Canadian Bankers' Association. Both amendments were moved by G. C. Coote, of Macleod, but the first was fathered by E. J. Garland, of Bow River, who produced evidence of a bank charging storage on cancelled cheques.

The amendment of Mr. Coote to abolish the practice of discounting bank loans was rejected, as were the proposals to cut the rates charged by banks for cashing cheques and collecting drafts.

WHO'S WHO?

A rich man in a public way recently enumerated some of the greater comforts, pleasures and satisfactions of the well-to-do. Some of the most satisfying experiences in life, says he, are the purely physical joys of eating when you are hungry, and resting when you are tired.

Note that in order to get the most out of these homely joy givers we must become hungry and tired, and here is where the farmer shines all right. He doesn't have to starve himself for twenty-four hours in order to work up a good appetite, nor knock the baby's little rubber ball all over an eighty-acre lot with a stick in order to get tired enough to rest.

The farmer has real food to eat, too, and he has it fresh. The city man takes what is left, and in the best shape he can get it, if he has the money to pay for it. If he does not have the money he goes without, and there are plenty of them going without. You can find many able-bodied men begging for a bite to eat, on city streets today, where they say everybody gets big wages.

These highly paid men whom we hear so much about, are not so well off as it may appear. It takes real money to live where there is so much competition for the necessities of life. Get out your pencil and figure how many dollars' worth you ate today, based on prices the city man pays if he gets it served as fresh and as well prepared as you do. Here is the schedule: Three buckwheat cakes, 20c; two eggs, 40c; two mouthfuls of sausage, 55c; one cup of coffee, tea or milk 20c dish of; cereal, 30c; fruit, 30c. If you want a second helping, double the price. Beefsteak, $1.25; one-fourth of a three-pound chicken, 75c; potatoes, 20c; two slices of bread, 10c; vegetables, canned, 20c; fresh vegetables, 30c; celery or pickles, 20c; cake, 20c; hot mince pie, 15c per cut. Now, be honest. Figure it for the family for the day, and for the week. Don't tell your wife, if you don't think best. She might want to collect.

Now, take inventory of the solid comfort you get when you pull the old rocking-chair up to the fire, after the day is done, and see if you don't feel like one of the world's most favored citizens, after all.

Hon. Manning Doherty says the removal of the cattle embargo means $18 per head to cattle producers.

Negotiations are in progress at present by the C. P. R. for Austrian settlers to locate on Canadian lands. Restrictions on ex-enemy emigrants have been removed and this will result in Canada getting more people to settle here.

The recent rains have been very beneficial and the trees are making rapid growth. Mrs. Jackson is to be complimented on the wonderful way in which she manages her farm and home. If some of the men would take up her idea of managing as well as help to make it so, there would be more beautiful as well as happier homes in our country. The old saying is true, if there are beautiful homes and surroundings it is a sure sign there will be prosperity and happiness. Those who have not visited Mrs. Jackson's home, we say have missed a treat.

These Quicker Shaves Mean Younger Faces

Ordinarily, shaving ages the skin—adds years to a man's looks. By giving them a shaving cream soothing to the skin we wiped years from millions of men's faces.

At the same time we cut down shaving time for them.

We spent 18 months—made 130 experiments—perfecting a cream with 5 distinct advantages:

It softens any beard in one minute—without rubbing-in.

Strong-walled bubbles hold hairs erect—for easier cutting.

And the after-effect is lotion-like—skin-soothing.

That's why millions of men today use PALMOLIVE SHAVING CREAM.

VULCAN

BASKETBALL

Local Team Wins in Overtime Play

The school grounds at Vulcan were the scene of a very exciting basketball game on Friday afternoon last when teams of girls from the Carmangay and Vulcan schools were the contestants. These teams met in Carmangay two weeks ago when the Vulcan girls lost and so they were very anxious to try conclusions again in the hope of getting even. The game was rather late in starting, owing to the fact that the inspector was paying a visit to the school at Carmangay on the afternoon of the match.

Mr. A. C. Vaughan was in charge of the game and insisted on all players sticking closely to the rules. It is only fair to mention that either the Carmangay girls had not been coached to play properly or they had followed boys' rules in their play. They were therefore at a disadvantage at the beginning of the game, and the local girls were leading 4-2 at the end of the first period. Later on the visitors fared better and when time was called the score was 11-11. An extra period of five minutes was ordered and during this the home girls scored a point, which gave them the victory.

The players elected to play two fifteen minute periods, but probably all the players would have been better able to stand three ten minute periods. There was a good attendance of spectators at the game. Line-up as follows:

Carmangay—Forwards: Ethel McLeod and Emeline Collins; centres: Mary Folk and Edith Summers; defence: Vera Francis and Gretta Boyde; spares: Henrietta Jensen and Carrie Simpson.

Vulcan—Forwards: Addie Flood and Mary Terry; centres: Edna McFadden and Ruth McArthur; defence: Beulah Hampton and Elizabeth Flood.

CADETS

Annual Inspection of Vulcan Cadets

The baseball diamond on the exhibition grounds was the scene of an interesting function on Tuesday afternoon when Mayor C. W. Devey of the Lord Strathcona House, Deputy Inspector of Cadets, inspected No. 1035 First Vulcan-Cadet Corps, instructor Lieutenant R. Greacen. Sixteen cadets under Sergeant Major I. S. Macdonald were put through various marching and physical exercises, and their equipment thoroughly inspected.

Major Devey expressed satisfaction with everything and congratulated the boys on their drill. He then gave a very instructive and interesting talk on the objects of cadet work, pointing out particularly that it was not merely to give physical strength, but to keep them fit and well in after life. In closing he told the boys they would become a first class corps if they continued on the lines they were then following. A large number of interested citizens witnessed the exercises.

THE INSTITUTE

Interesting Paper on an Interesting Subject

The following paper, written by Mrs. J. M. Love, was read at a recent meeting of Redlandview Women's Institute, and by the institute considered to merit the publicity which this medium affords, and the space is gladly given.

When I was a child all our good times were had in our own home, or in the homes of our neighbors; dancing, some times playing games, and social entertainment provided by the churches, by county fairs, and by political campaigns. No social lines were drawing on a basis of money or education. Things that made an outcast were they convincingly plain, were drunkenness or immorality. In those days the people who were persistently intemperate or immoral were lepers in a class by themselves, and were shunned by all. Every one was interested in the affairs of every one else. If any man was sick and behind in his work, half a dozen of his neighbors would volunteer to help him out with his work, and the women in turn would each volunteer to tidy their sick neighbor's house, sew for her children, brush her hair, give her a bath, and cheer her soul with the assurance that she would be well looked after until she was herself again.

The one time I realize that I am past 20 is when I recall the picture of my childhood home and think of the abundance joy we got from life in keeping a clean house, in entertaining our friends and relations, in making a picture on the landscape with our dooryard and garden. I recall the pride we took in our orchard, a great square of apple trees with their white blossoms, what a lovely sight and beautiful vines and flowers and bushes in the dooryard to make our home a lovely picture and help to feed our family. In this setting we spent our lives seeing how much we could learn, and how hard we could work, how happy we could be, and to what extent we could help our neighbors. We celebrated the harvesting of the grain by a big supper with friends and neighbors, and went to the nearest swamps and marshes on berry picking parties, and in the fall we always went with a team and wagon to gather nuts for our winter store. The heart-burnings and dissatisfactions of today were not in existence in those days. Every one came nearer to having the same thing in the same way. Men had not begun generally to lay up the great fortunes that today breed envy and discontent. Home was really "Sweet, sweet home," the center of the social life of each family. It is not necessary to discuss minutely the changes that have come during the past thirty years—it seems as if the wave of a wand had come, and behold, everything is changed.

I do hope and wish that we can restore the same spirit in our neighborhood and banish all jealous feelings. Let us help one another love one another, and let us make this institute the best there is.

The youngsters of the country today have not the slightest interest in the bird or flower life around them. Country youngsters hate their environment because they feel that they are being defrauded of the bright lights and old time, sane, healthful, educational music, and the things that look to them like joy. They finish their day's work in the quickest way in order to jump into an automobile and reach the picture show and the dance hall in the nearest school house or village.

In the cities they are so busy having entertainments that they have no time to bother with the sick. One is huddled up and sent to the hospital.

Our boys, especially the boy of the city are beginning to show in their faces nerve strain. They are in no way fitted physically or mentally to cope with life as were their fathers. To me the round shouldered, flat chested, hollow-eyed little painted girls you pass by on the streets and see in the offices are the most shocking sign that our age presents, and the boys of their age present the same evidence of mental over-stimulation. They are bright enough and they are quick enough with their tongues, but they do not think straight and deep. They are living not with a view of becoming leaders of men for our nation, but to see how much they can get out of life for their own gratification.

It lies with the fathers and mothers of the city and country to take the children who are young enough to be malleable and once again begin the teaching on earth in which to entertain their friends and to have a good time, that father is the finest man in the world, a person to be respected and to be instantly obeyed. That mother is a precious possession to be taken good care of in order that she may get joy from life for herself and give to her children the deep pleasure that can be found in the wonderful things that can be done in a home. In many cases the lure of public entertainments is becoming so firmly fixed that it will scarcely be possible to substitute anything to replace it within this generation, but it can be done with the younger generation if parents care to bestow themselves, to open their doors, to give the youngsters a chance to live their lives as young people best enjoy life. Youngsters always like it best if they are allowed their friends into their homes and entertain them if they may have their music, dancing, and other social entertainments with their friends in the security of their home, with the sanction and help of father and mother. I do not believe that for home entertainments there is anything more beneficial and wonderful than a phonograph, and a supply of the world's classics in records. If the ear of a child is trained in childhood to the magnificent sweep of music, if he is taught harmony and rhythms and melody both in music and dancing he will develop a soul which will recoil from vulgar music that everywhere assails our ears in the present day. Wonderful things are being done in the moving picture studios today, but as you love your children and value their sensibilities, as you want them to be props and uplifters in the coming life of the nation, do not allow them to see any picture that is not made under guarantee of a name that stands for the things that are moral and clean.

To the highest point of my brain, to the lowest depth of my heart, with all the force of my personality, I plead for homes, for a return to the ideas of entertainment and amusement. But don't have anything in a home too good to use. Don't have it so fine that the children cannot get their joy out of it. Don't drive them to the city, the dance hall, and the picture show because there is nothing entertaining for them to do at home.
